Counseling and Career Guidance in Turkey

- Educational Guidance and Support in Turkish educational system is provided by the Ministry of National Education at all levels of education including early childhood education, primary and secondary education
- The Basic Law on National Education, No.1739
- Article 2: The overall objectives of Turkish National Education are to educate all individuals of the Turkish nation so as to develop their interests, talents and abilities and prepare them for life by providing them with the necessary knowledge, skills and behaviors and with the habit of working together and to enable them to have an occupation which will make them happy and contribute to the happiness of society;
- Article 6: During their education individuals shall be oriented towards various programs or schools to the extent and in the direction of their interests, talents and abilities. The National Education System shall be organized so as to ensure such orientation in all respects. Services of guidance and objective methods of measurement and assessment shall be used in orientation and in measuring success.

GUIDANCE SERVICES IN EDUCATION

- Generally, all of the schools are appointed a teacher specialized on psychological and guidance by the Ministry. Working as a consultant and a monitor in the school, these teachers provide psychological consultancy for those who need certain affective support. Psychological consultancy and guidance teachers work as a therapist, guide and a carrier planner for the students of upper secondary education.
- Although career education and guidance is the responsibility of all school personnel, the career and guidance counsellors have specialist knowledge that plays a central role in career education and guidance.

- Primary education programmes include guidance integration as an intermediary discipline. The duration of secondary education is 4 years with guidance from 9th to 12th grades.
- Apart from interview techniques used in individual guidance interviews in schools, some measuring and evaluation instruments are utilized. In spite of all efforts, career guidance is usually geared towards the transition to higher education.

○ Career Guidance

Although there are no regulations available concerning the career choices or guidance of the early childhood education pupils, the teachers generally advise parents about the academic achievements or limited areas of their children so that parents can take conscious actions in career choices of their children in the future educational phases.

GUIDANCE SERVICES IN EDUCATION

- RAMs in cities undertake coordination responsibilities with respect to guidance services, including vocational guidance services. The Provincial Directorate for National Education Special Education and Guidance Services Branch, the Provincial Directorate for National Education, and MONE are the structures that ensure provision of these services.

- At Provincial Level there are Provincial Employment and Vocational Training Councils which comprise the formation of employment and vocational education/training policies, the determination of employment activities and active employment programmes to attain and develop employment and to prevent unemployment.)
